

ABSTRACT

Marya's Ambition as Seen in Fyodor Dostoevsky's *My Uncle's Dream

By

Anggie Eka Puspitasari

14111119

This thesis discusses a novel by Fyodor Dostoevsky's entitled My Uncle's Dream. It is aimed to know and explain Marya's ambition that deals with id, ego, and superego of Marya that occur in My Uncle's Dream novel. The writer applies psychological approach and psychoanalytic theory by Freud (1920). The theorist divides the human psyche into three forms are id, go, superego. The data of this research are based on dialogue in the novel. This research was conducted by library research and qualitative method. The result of this analysis presents three forms of the human psyche potrayed inside the novel. Marya's id is becoming a rich person, Marya's ego is marrying her daughter with Prince K, and Marya's superego is thinking that if she ask Prince K to marry her daughter their live becomes so wonderful.

Key Words: Ambition, My Uncle's Dream, Psychological approach, Psychoanalysis.